The Next Best Thing To Living There

Admirers of midcentury modern architecture can now hang an image of a favorite house on the wall, thanks to a series of digital prints made from gouache paintings by Oren Sherman.

"I'm referencing the houses I saw as a child," said Mr. Sherman, an illustrator who has designed United States postage stamps. "The View," below, shows a 1960 California house designed by Pierre Koenig. Other prints in the series are of West Coast case study homes by Rudolf Schindler. Each signed 16-by-22-inch print is $300 unframed or $400 framed in black wood. From www.orensherman.com or (508) 487-2172; next month at Nest Interiors, 172A Ninth Avenue, (212) 337-3441.
